It won't be long before I become an adult, so I feel very excited as well as a bit nervous.

First of all, I'd like to express my sincere gratitude to my parents and teachers, without whom, I couldn't have made such great progress in my life and study. Secondly, as an adult, I should learn to be independent. Also, it's time for me to take it into consideration what I will take up in the future. I wish to study in a key university to become a lawyer, using what I have learnt to serve our society.

Adulthood means hope, challenge and responsibility, and I'm sure I can do well in the future.
