Dear Mike,

Knowing that you are interested in “Cycle along the Dian Lake”, I would like to tell you something about it.

Aimed at building up our body and arouse people’s awareness of doing sports, the activity not only can provide you with a beautiful view of the lake, but you also can experience the fun of sports. It is to be held on January fifteenth from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m., which will last two hours. We will gather at our school gate at 8:30 a.m. Don’t forget to wear comfortable sports suits and bring some water.

I hope we can have a pleasant experience of cycling, looking forward to your reply.

Yours,
Li Hua

Text 1

W: Will John be joining us this evening? Or is he coming over tomorrow? If it’s just you and me, we can watch a movie.

M: He won’t be here until Sunday evening actually. (1) He’s coming with Linda.

Text 2

W: Did you find any other players? We only have five people right now.

M: We need three more, but Sam and Dana are busy. That leaves only Matthew. Can we play with six?

W: Yes, it’s also OK with six people. (2)

Text 3

M: Have you seen the cat anywhere? I thought I heard her in the living room, but she wasn’t there. I’ve also checked the kitchen, but still couldn’t find her.

W: Look! She is jumping to the top of the fence in the garden. (3)

Text 4

W: I want to be a millionaire one day, and travel around the world. Maybe I’ll own a few companies, too.

M: I just want to make enough money so that I can live comfortably and support my parents. (4)

Text 5

M: What happened to your face? You have many red spots on your face like paint. Are you allergic to something?

W: It happens whenever I eat peanuts. I love them, but I guess my body doesn’t.

Text 6

M: What’s going on, Maria? I tried to get in touch with you all yesterday evening. (6) Is everything all right?

W: I’m fine.

M: Well, I called you at 8:00, (6) (7) but I only got the voice mail. (7) Was your battery running low?

W: No. I was at a symphony concert that started at 7:00. It would have been rude to keep my phone on. (7)

M: I see. I'm glad everything's OK. Did you get my message afterward?

W: Yes, I got it, but I didn't turn on my phone until 10:00. I thought it was too late to call you.

Text 7

M: There's a meeting at a Thai restaurant in the city center this evening, honey. (8) Do you want to go with me?

W: I feel out of place at those events. (8) Only people in the technology field go to those meetings. They talk about things that I don't understand.

M: I have an idea. Why don't you come to the city center, anyway? You can have dinner with your sister at a different restaurant. She likes Japanese food a lot, (9) and there's a good place downtown.

W: I prefer that little Mexican restaurant. It has good desserts.

M: Sure. After dinner, we can catch a movie together. (10)

W: Sounds good. (10) I'll give her a call to see if she's free.

Text 8

M: How's your back today, Mom? (11)

W: Oh, it's a little better than yesterday. But it still takes some time to completely recover.

M: You should really get it looked at in case it gets worse.

W: Well, I don't know if my health insurance will pay for it.

M: I have an idea. Why don't you see a sports doctor? (12) They are very good at fixing these kinds of problems.

W: How much would that cost?

M: Nothing at all. I have a friend who will see you for free. (13) Also, he treats his patients more naturally.

W: Oh, I couldn't do that, Marcus!

M: Don't worry! We were on a soccer team in college. He owes me a favor, anyway.

W: Thank you, dear. Set up an appointment for me, please.

M: OK. I'll call him now. (13)

Text 9

M: Do you want to watch a movie after work? The film The Boxer is my favorite. I love the sport so much. It has so much exciting action.

W: I think that film is less about the sport. It is more about the character. It's definitely more of a drama. Dramas are my favorites, anyway. (14) Have you seen The Green Mile? (15)

M: Oh, yes. (15) I think The Green Mile is one of the best films that have ever been made. It takes on a lot of hot issues that are happening in our country, even now.

W: I agree. Even though the movie is 20 years old, it is still amazing. I didn't really understand it when I first saw it, because I was young. Now I really understand it. I don't think it's good for young kids, though.

M: When I first saw it, I thought it was a true story! (15) I can't believe I thought it was real.

W: I'm going to show it to my kids when they are old enough. It is a very serious movie for them now. (16)

Text 10

There once was a boy who walked through the forest every day. (17) One day, he forgot his water and became very thirsty. Instead of going home, he drank from the river. (18) Later that night the boy became thirsty again. He tried to drink some water, but he felt the same after. He tried to eat some fruit, thinking maybe he was just hungry instead, but that didn't work either. Then he tried to eat some bread, thinking the fruit wasn't enough, but nothing worked. He went to a neighbor's house and asked to borrow a drink and they gave him some beer. (19) The beer only made him thirstier still and he began to worry. He spent the whole night at home trying to drink away the thirst, and it wasn't until late at night that he decided to go back to the river. There he drank again, and found his thirst gone at once. The next day, the boy began building his house by the river. (20) When people from the town asked why he was moving there, he explained that the river was the only thing that made him feel right now.
